Hard Luck Plagues MSU Grid Season

Lady Luck certainly wasn't on Montana's side this season. Injuries plagued the team wherever the Grizzlies went.

Both Severn Hayes and Ervin Rogers, the two leading ground gainers, suffered broken legs during the latter part of the year. Hayes had also broken his leg during the previous season. Bill Katserman was forced to hang up his spikes with an injured back. Matt Gosslich's severe leg injury caused him to miss the Idaho game.

Don Williamson bruised his knee at Salt Lake City and Bill Hand missed both the New Mexico and Idaho games. Dick Daver, Montana Beckman, Bob McGowan and Ivory Jones, plus several others, suffered various injuries. An appendectomy kept Dick Wright, speedy sophomore back, from playing football this year.

Montana's Grizzlies claim to fame this season was in its ranking sixth in the nation in yard returns—24 for 342 yards and an average of 14.3 yards per carry. The Silvertips won only one while losing nine games.

In the first game of the season, Arizona defeated Montana 21-12. Although holding down Art Lappino, the champion ground gainer in college history, with a stout ground defense, the Silvertips were victims of a sizzling air attack. Two weeks later Utah's two platoons outlasted the Grizzlies for a 26-6 win for the strong Utes.

Sports Illustrated said this about the third straight game on the road: "Denver won its first of the season, handing Montana its third straight loss 22-13. All the scoring in this one was in the first half, the officials taking over in the second half. In fact, the striped shirts had a field day as they marched off too much carnage in their enthusiasm, another line getting the downs mixed up, and finally permitting an ineligible receiver to catch a pass."

Before Vard Homecoming fans, in Montana's first home game, Utah State broke a 13-0 tie at the start of the fourth quarter to go on to hand a 27-13 loss to the hapless Grizzlies. Four first-stringers, Katserman, Jones, McGowan, and Williamson, weren't in the Montana line-up due to injuries.

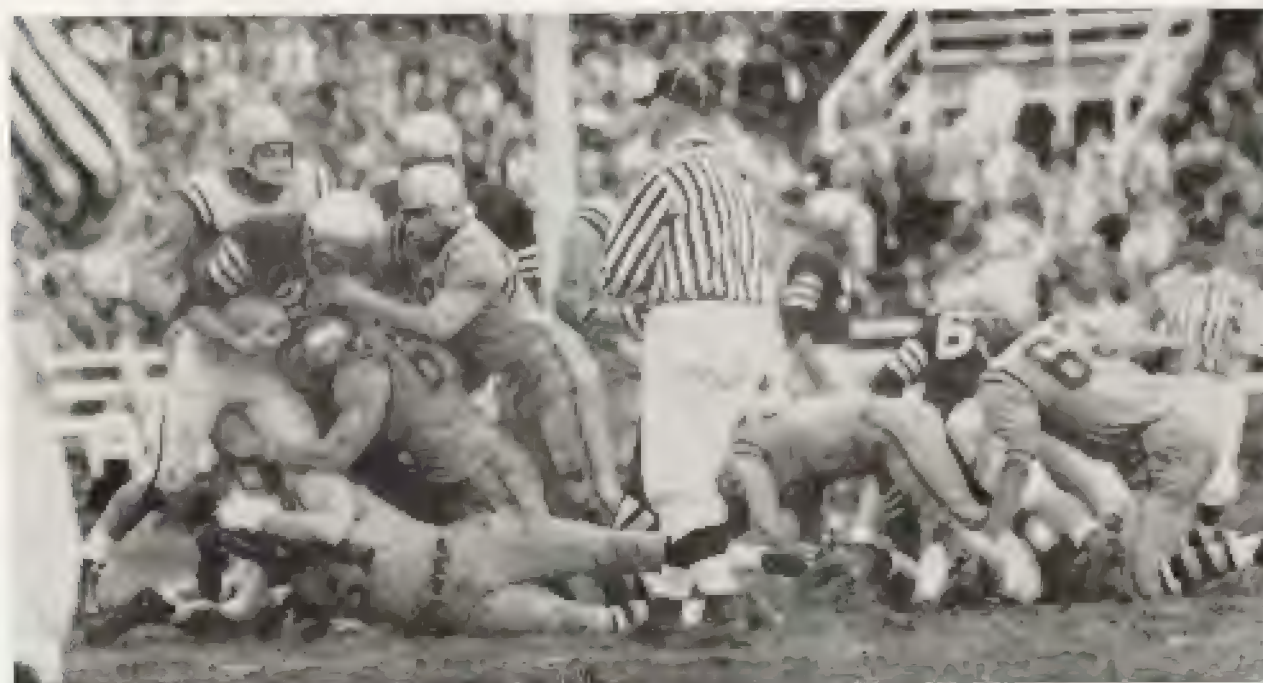

The Grizzlies ground out 19 first downs in a 32-14 victory over the Brigham Young Cougars. Guard Roy King, elected outstanding lineman of the game, performed a rare feat: he scored on a 46-yard run after intercepting a BYU pass.

In the 20-34 loss to Colorado A & M, Montana's only bright spot was Hayes' 70-yard sprint into yardline on a kickoff return. The Montana State Bobcats won their eleventh victory of the 16 days between the two schools by a score of 14-34. The Bobcats went on to finish their undefeated season by playing in the Alamo Bowl at Little Rock, Arkansas.

The Wyoming Cowboys, who also had an undefeated season, ran wild in the second half to annihilate the Silvertips 34-13. The score at halftime was deadlocked at 13-all.

Despite Montana's Rogers, who gained first downs at random, New Mexico's Lattin eked out a 14-13 win from the Grizzlies in a game which saw a near-rat in the closing seconds. Tempers flared over a swinging incident between two players. Both benches emptied onto the field as spectators joined in; policemen spent five minutes clearing the field.

On Thanksgiving Day, the Idaho Vandals retained the little brown jug by taking advantage of a blocked kick and a 41-yard F.D. march to shut out the scrappy Montana eleven 14-0.

Jack Hill, the nation's leading ground gainer, is shown above as he was stopped by the Grizzlies in the Homecoming game on October 13 at Missoula. Vern Tennant is at the bottom of the pile. Utah State won the game with MSU by a score of 27-13.

Renning Shines

Stan Renning, 200-pound guard from Great Falls, lived up to all expectations with his bone-crushing offensive and defensive play. Several injuries were tamped upon the young blond. Renning was a near-unanimous choice by the Associated Press as the most promising sophomore in the Skyline Conference, and he played on the Skyline All-Star second team. He is the first sophomore ever to be chosen as the outstanding Grizzly player.

Hoopsters Third in Skyline Conference

Montana's basketball hoop squad, a "black bear" to the 1957 Skyline league finally finished in third place in the conference standings after coming in the thick of the battle for the "top dog" position until the final game of the season.

The Mountain Skyline record was the best showing by a Montana team since MSU joined the mountain league in 1951. Against non-conference foes, MSU broke even in eight games in control of the total season's record at 13-9.

The Silverites proved they were definitely a home court team by winning seven in a row at home after losing to Idaho in the first tray of the season in the Field House. They won two while losing eight away from home, which was an improvement over last year when the squad didn't win any games on the road.

Their best road win came at the expense of Wyoming and New Mexico. The 36-33 victory at New Mexico on Feb. 16 was MSU's first league win away from home since Feb. 28, 1957. The 11-78 win over the Cowboys was only the second time Montana has won an off-site event in Skyline play at Wyoming.

Facts . . .

Montana led the Skyline conference in defense by holding their foes to 62.9 points per game in 14 league contests.

MSU was one of the top 20 teams in the nation in defense.

Al Dunham tied the school record for scoring the most points via free throws in one game by swishing 14 as MSU beat Colorado A&M 74-63.

Dunham also set what may be a new Skyline record by scoring 33 consecutive free throws.

The Grizzlies set a new school record by scoring 72.1 per cent of their free throws.

Ray Howard grabbed 21 rebounds against Idaho . . . Clancy Waters scored 22 of the team's 36 points in outlasting New Mexico's stalling tactics, 36-23.

In the February 23 fray with B.Y.U., Zip Rhoades (7) flicks a left-handed jump shot over the outstretched hands of Lynn Rowe of B.Y.U. Also pictured are Jim Powell (10), Tom Steinke (23), Russ Sheriff (6), and Roy Thacker (35).

Montana 60 - Utah 48

Big Russ Sheriff bucketed 15 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to inspire the hustling Grizzlies to scalp the Utah Redskins, defeating Skyline champions, by a 60-48 score. After a fairly close first half, the Grizzlies, playing deliberately and exhibiting a zone defense, pulled away midway in the last half.

In the below picture of the January 19 game, Al Dunham (6) springs high into the stratosphere to swish two points despite the defensive work of Jerry McHenry (35). Shown are Waters (16), Clark Stokes (10), and Sheriff (5).

More Facts . . .

Zip Rhoades scored 26 points as MSU lost to Utah State 70-60. Dunham played the finest game of his collegiate career in the 64-60 win over Wyoming by making 26 points and 14 rebounds.

Rhoades scored on 16 out of 16 attempted field goals, made 26 points, and victory against Colorado A&M gathered in 12 rebounds in the 74-62.

Jim Powell scored 18 points in the second half to lead MSU to an 81-78 win at Wyoming, after the Silvertips had been held 33-44 at halftime.

Waters' 18 second half effort wasn't enough as Utah downed MSU 84-70.

Zip Rhoades missed 10th, Clancy Waters 11th and Al Dunham 13th in Skyline scoring for 14 games. Their total points were 216, 194 and 150, respectively.

public service division . . .

Administrative agency . . . carries on the university's off-campus activities and services . . . has varied departments.

SITTING Virginia Linton, publicist; Marjorie Dwyer, news service adviser; Ross Miller, director, public service division and news service; Jeanne Southard, secretary; Mary Margaret Courtney, secretary, home study, and adult education.

STANDING Lee Penabell, conservation education (standing); Cytle Van Dusen, student employment secretary, hometown news and yearbook adviser; Dick Harris, news service photographer; Cy Noe, tv assistant; Murdo Campbell, athletic news.

alumni association . . .

Keeps the MSU alumni in contact with the university, each other and the activities of each . . . this accomplished through the alumni news bulletin . . . maintains a permanent office on campus.

Kathryn Buzzetti, clerk; Martin Bourke, secretary-treasurer, Montana State University Alumni Association; and Hulda Fielda, records secretary, standing in front of the alumni house on campus.

The 1957 Sentinel has sought for change in organization, design and idea . . . not change for the sake of change but change for the realization that only by such can come revaluation of old ways and perhaps a fresher, more living and cohesive approach. The changes are many and evident. The only one I shall mention is the lack of advertising which did mean a small cut in budget which was compensated for by lack of color and less expensive covers. These economies will be foregone next year, and with happier merchants, we hope.

I wish to thank all those who so willingly gave of their time and effort to make this book a reality. The list is long . . . the immediate staff, of course, Kay Blaszek, Bill Boring, Chuck Janda, Don Harkin, Danna Davis, Dee Scriven, Walt Gerson, Larry David, Roger Livdahl, Chuck Davey, Julia Parenti and all the many freshman girls . . . Cyrile Van Duser for her advice and encouragement, Claud Lord, Red Fisher and Gale Brammer of the University Press, Tom McConnell of Kingskraft Covers and Jack Gallant and Al Salisbury of the Artcraft Engraving Company.

The Missoulan photographers, Stan Healy, John Forssen and Ken Payton, Dick Harris of the University staff, Scotty Campbell of the Butte Standard and Shell Oil Company, and Ken Cooper . . . the many faculty members and students who cooperated when asked for information and posing . . . Bob Dundas, Lucille Armsby, Ross Miller, Marcus Bourke, Murdo Campbell, Dr. Carl McFarland . . . the Registrar's Office, Athletic Department, News Service, Kamin, the Business Office and the Lodge Main Desk.

And most of all, the members of my family and Ross when the pressure made me difficult to live with . . . and Kay for the tedious finishing touches.

Natalie Norby Cannon
